

PORTFOLIO DISTRIBUTION

› Share portfolio data and analytics through the FactSet Investor Network. Rely on FactSet's data integration experts and Portfolio Services offering to ensure accurate processing, for use in downstream population of investment consultant databases or direct distribution to institutional investors.

Streamline Your Distribution Process

Save time and improve consistency each reporting period.

- Combine holdings and returns-based analytics with your firm's quantitative and qualitative data
- Produce multi-asset class analytics for any investment strategy
- Generate standardized reports for multiple consulting databases
- Ensure consistency of analytics to all downstream consumers of your data
- Reduce delays in data generation through an automated workflow
- Deliver data via a security file transmission
- Monitor your data processes and third-party data consumption

Secure, Transparent Communication

Let the FactSet Investor Network and Portfolio Distribution service be your link between asset owners, asset managers, and third-party databases. The network's private and public connections allow you to control who you exchange information with via a secure online portal.
